

Adam Coldwells
Interim Chief Executive of NHS
Grampian

Adam has spent 27 years working across Grampian in hospital, community and system-wide roles.

He spear-headed the formation of the Aberdeenshire Health and Social Care Partnership as its Chief Officer and, prior to becoming Interim Chief Executive of NHS Grampian, was instrumental in the development of the Health Board's Plan for the Future as its Director of Strategy.

The Plan for the Future was co-created with patients, staff groups and community partners and sets out NHS Grampian's work towards delivering a sustainable Health and Care system capable of enabling wellness as well as treating illness.
